"FIRST TO LAST—THE TRUTH: NEWS—EDITORIALS—ADVERTISEMENTS"

VOLUME XXVII.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1918.

NUMBER 28

TAG-YOUR-SHOVEL DAY

In order to impress upon the public the necessity for frugality in the use of coal, the conservation division of the Fuel Administration has set January 30, 1918, as "Tag-Your-Shovel Day." Tags, representing a shovel, and bearing suggestions for saving coal, are to be tied by the school children to practically every shovel in the country on this date. Like the proverbial "string around the finger to remember by," these tags will act as a constant reminder to the householder to use his coal carefully. The Superintendent of Schools for Kentucky has arranged for the distribution of the tags through the children in each school. Large posters urging the conservation of fuel will be posted in the furnace rooms of all local industrial plants and in the boiler rooms of local plants as well as in private homes that use coal for fuel. Stickers calling attention to "Tag-Your-Shovel-Day," will shortly appear on every door and window in the city and the public is asked to aid the local Fuel Chairman in making the day here a success.

MR. WM. F. BYRD DEAD

Mr. Wm. F. Byrd, one of the best known men of this county and who numbered his friends by his acquaintances, died at his home in this city Thursday after an illness of about two years. Mr. Byrd had been a farmer and breeder of trotters for many years and was well known throughout Central Kentucky. A man of happy disposition he was known everywhere for his loyalty to his friends. An industrious, honest citizen he will be missed by many. Deceased is survived by his widow.

WAVES EXAMINATION

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Porter C. Eubank, was called before County Judge Chenault Friday morning and the defendant waived examination and was ordered to be kept in jail to await the action of the Grand Jury, which convenes in this city Monday, January 28th. Upon the recommendation of Commonwealth's Attorney W. C. Hamilton Eubank was transferred to Lexington jail for safe keeping as the jail here was considered unsafe.

NEW OFFICIALS NOW IN OFFICE

Several Changes in Personnel of New City and County Administrations.

Without ceremony the new city and county administrations took charge of affairs yesterday. Mayor W. R. McKee will head the city administration and County Judge Earl W. Senff, the county administration. In the new County Commissioners interest chiefly centered, as to them the people look for many improvements. While the funds available are limited, such splendid business men as Messrs. R. G. Kern, A. S. Hart and Dan Welch can be counted upon to make an excellent showing.

Upon the desk of the new County Judge was a beautiful bunch of roses, the personal gift of his good friend, Tom Grubbs Prewitt.

The new Sheriff, Mr. Jno. G. Roberts, named Messrs. Jas. W. Greene and Wm. Cravens as his deputies and they were promptly sworn in as such, while Mr. Jas. M. Greer took charge of the county jail.

Those of whom we have newspaper cuts will be found on page 4.

MRS. OSBORNE CALLED

Mrs. Rebecca Skidmore Osborne, widow of Greene Osborne, who died a few months ago, died at her home in this city Saturday morning after an illness of several months. Mrs. Osborne was a native of Harlan county but had lived here several years and by her lovely character and sweet gentle ways had endeared herself to many friends. Deceased was 66 years of age. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon with burial in Maehpelah. To the grief stricken family we tender our sympathy.

MR. HAMILTON HONORED

Mr. George G. Hamilton, a leading citizen of Bath county, has been appointed by the government of Panama as consul ad honorem to Lexington from Panama. Mr. Hamilton has received his instructions in the form of the consular law of Panama, which embraces his duties of office. The appointment carries with it virtually no duties but the honorary title, which is seldom conferred.

MARRIED AT WINCHESTER

Miss Ida Heath Jones and Mr. Francis O. Hunt, of this city, went to Winchester last Wednesday morning, where they were married at the residence of Rev. G. W. Banks, pastor of the Methodist church, of that city. The young people were accompanied to Winchester by Mrs. O. M. Jones, mother of the bride, Miss Anisa Hunt and Mr. Robert Payne and Mr. Jameson Jones. After a short bridal trip the happy couple will make their home with the bride's mother on Holt avenue in this city until March 1st, at which time they will move to a farm recently rented by Mr. Hunt near Grassy Lick. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. O. M. Jones and is a most attractive and charming girl exceedingly popular with a large circle of friends.

Mr. Hunt is a son of Mrs. R. J. Hunt and is a manly young fellow of pleasant address and manner, and has the good will and respect of all who know him.

The Advocate joins friends in wishing the happy couple happiness and prosperity.

YOUNG PEOPLE MARRY

One of the first official acts of County Judge Earl W. Senff was to unite in marriage Monday, Mr. Jesse Carpenter and Miss Emma Holder, popular young people of the Spencer neighborhood. The ceremony was performed at the Court House in the presence of a number of persons, principally officials, who had gathered to witness the same.

Both of the contracting parties have many friends who will learn of their marriage with interest and join us in wishing them a long and happy married life.

NEAT REPLY TO COMPLIMENT

One of our most estimable country ladies who has long since passed the age of girlhood, but who retains much of the animation, life and enthusiasm of youth, met a friend on the street one day last week after driving into town from her country home and in greeting her he said, "Well, well, the weather has made your cheeks as bright and rosy as those of a young girl; I don't know when I ever saw you look better." With a bright smile she replied, "Yes, the weather is responsible for part of that coloring, the balance is camouflage."

DRAFT LAW DECLARED VALID BY SUPREME COURT

The selective service act was upheld Monday as constitutional by the Supreme Court. The Government's contention that the power given Congress to declare war includes power to compel citizens to render military service both at home and abroad, were sustained by the court.

ELECTED CHURCH OFFICERS

Messrs. Grover C. Anderson and Tandy Chenault were elected trustees of the Baptist church Sunday morning in place of Mr. W. A. Sutton, deceased, and Mr. L. L. Bridgforth, resigned. Mr. Cecil S. Greene was elected a deacon of the church at the same service.

MOVING DAY

Mr. A. C. Richardson, Deputy Jailor under his father, Mr. John P. Richardson, whose term of office expired Sunday night, has moved to the Hibler residence on West Main street, and Mr. James Greer, Jailor, has moved into the county property.

MRS. SHARP CALLED HOME

Prominent Woman Who Had Long Been An Invalid Is Called Home to God.

Mrs. Lottie Colgrove, wife of John R. Sharp, who yielded to the inevitable on Friday morning, January 4, at 7:00 o'clock at her late home, has entered into the rewards of His own. Mrs. Sharp had been an invalid for many years, her condition becoming serious on Tuesday, January 1st, from which attack she could not rally. She was the daughter of the late J. B. Colgrove and was born in Buffalo, N. Y., fifty-nine years ago, December 13th last. She was married to John R. Sharp, June 22, 1878, and came to this city in 1881. To this union was born five children: Horton, James, Ann Laura, John R., Jr., and Stewart. Horton and James preceded Mrs. Sharp years ago, and she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Laura M. Colgrove, three sisters, Mrs. H. C. Stephens, Mrs. A. W. English, and Mrs. Hord Sharp, all of Sharpsburg, by her attentive and devoted husband and three children, Mrs. J. B. Meacham, of Mississippi; John R., Jr., Atlanta, Ga., in training for the trenches, and Stewart, of this city.

From early childhood she had been a member of the Presbyterian church. Funeral services were conducted at the home by Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman Monday afternoon, the 7th, at 1:30 o'clock, and burial was in Maehpelah cemetery.

The kindred present from out of the city were John R. Sharp, Jr., Mrs. H. C. Stephens and Mrs. Hord Sharp, Mrs. A. W. English being detained at her home due to the feeble condition of her mother.

Of this superior woman, whom we have known from young womanhood, we could say much; amiable, modest, cultured and sweet spirited. When in health it was her joy to contribute of her happiness to the pleasure of others, and every impulse was elevating, inspiring to lofty ambitions. Hers was one of the faultless church characters, though, adverse to show, from a heart of love, she gladly administered and when the long 13 years of invalid life took possession of her the radiant sunshine was veiled, because she could not render helpful service. How encouraging the preacher spoke of her faith. She knew Him, His voice and followed where He leadeth. Accepted of God there was none that could pluck His own from Him. She had cause for neither doubt nor fear for she knew in whom she trusted, her's is a home in Heaven.

A home in heaven! Where our friends are fled, To the cheerless gloom of the mouldering dead; We wait in hope on the promise given; We will meet up there in our home in heaven. A home in heaven! When the wheel is broke, And the golden bowl by the terror stroke; When life's bright sun sinks in death's dark even, We will then fly up to our home in heaven.

The farmer that has black locust logs can realize handsomely from them. This hard, close-grained wood is needed in ship-building.

THE TOBACCO MARKET

As we go to press the sale is still in progress at the Whitehall warehouse and it is reported that the market on the higher grades is some stronger than last week. The men in charge of the warehouses have requested us to again urge the growers to be more careful about the condition in which they bring in their tobacco as wet tobacco will not bring what it would if in proper condition. The lower grades are bringing about what they did last week, however the reds are stronger. Sales will be held Wednesday at the Robertson house and also at the Farmers house. The men in charge of the warehouses are doing all they can to make tobacco bring good prices but unless they have the co-operation of the grower they cannot succeed.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The W. C. T. U. met in regular session Saturday afternoon at the Rest Room, Mrs. C. K. Oldham, president, had charge of the meeting. The attendance was small owing to the inclement weather, but those present discussed their New Year resolutions for the temperance work. Making bandages for the soldiers was decided upon for the year's work.

REPORT OF LEAGUE

The Health & Welfare League held its monthly meeting Wednesday. Reports of Community Christmas tree, and the regular calls and work of the nurse, Miss Margaret Frost, were given. A report that the proceeds of the sale of Red Cross seals, $200 was given to the Health & Welfare League. Mrs. J. A. Vansant was chosen as second vice president of the League.

ENTERTAIN STOCKHOLDERS

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus A. Prewitt, entertained the stockholders of the Eureka Oil Co. last Wednesday evening with a delightful six o'clock dinner at their beautiful country home on the Winchester pike. After dinner a business meeting was held and the officers and directors of the company were chosen.

STATE DIRECTOR HERE

Mr. T. R. Moss, State Director of the United States Food Administration gave a talk on the food question at the Courthouse Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance, most of whom were women.

STANLEY MEN ARE WINNERS

Robert J. Crowe, Administration Candidate, Defeats Claude M. Thomas for Speaker.

The Governor and his followers won a victory in the Democratic caucus held Monday and the Stanley candidate, Robt. J. Crowe, of La Grange, defeated Claude M. Thomas, of Paris, for Speaker by a vote of 33 to 27, at the election Monday night. The State-wide Prohibition pioneers, the men who have stood for Prohibition without the camouflage of compensation, stuck to Thomas to the last. It was openly charged on the floor that votes had been changed by promises of jobs. In the Senate, Thomas A. Combs, of Lexington, was elected president pro-tem without opposition. Mr. Combs served in this position at the last session.

Mr. William B. O'Connell, of Covington, formerly of this city, was chosen as chief clerk of the Senate. Our Representative, T. L. Candel, voted for Thomas and all other candidates that had the backing of the Democratic Forward League. In discussing the election of Mr. Crowe, Dr. A. J. A. Alexander, head of the Democratic Forward League, said:

"We had the other fellows beaten, but they took away from us four men who had pledged themselves to Thomas. This is what happened and we believe that the promise of office at the hands of the administration did it."

Representative-elect Crowe said: "I have no statement to make. The figures of the vote speak for themselves."

The administration is pledged to the passage of a State-wide amendment to the Constitution free from any "joker" but those who opposed the administration do not believe they will carry out this pledge and just what they will do in this matter will be closely watched all over the State and should they fail to live up to this promise it means a Republican administration in Kentucky at the next State election.

Life will have given you all it can afford when your neighbor has the same opinion of your daughter's musical ability that you have.

BEQUEST TO BLIND SOLDIERS

The following article of recent publication may be of interest to our readers:

"The will of Mrs. Mary Anna Ganung Young, an eccentric woman who lived on Fairy Island in Lake Mahopee, made public recently, leaves most of her fortune, estimated at between $500,000 and $1,000,- 000, to aid and maintain blind soldiers. She owned large tracts of land in Putnam county and in Kentucky. A prenuptial agreement is on file in Carmel whereby Mrs. Young, who was 80 years old, was to bestow $25,000 on her youthful husband, Zachary Taylor Young. According to report she made a settlement with him shortly before her death.

Her only relative, Miss Ada Hudson, a niece, is cut off with one dollar. She leaves $1,000 to maintain her burial lot, and a farm in Union Valley to lay out a cemetery. The residue is left to such institutions in England as provide for the care and maintenance of soldiers blinded in the war with Germany."

INCOME TAX OFFICER COMING HERE IN FEW DAYS

It will require a small army of men to take the income tax returns of persons subject to the new law.

Collector of Internal Revenue Haly has announced that seven officers will start from his headquarters on January 1st and on January 2nd every one of them will be on the job in the county assigned to him, to meet the people and help them make out their income tax returns. The officer assigned to this county is due to arrive here on January 14th, and to remain until January 26th, 1918, both dates inclusive. He will have his office in Mt. Sterling in the Postoffice, where he may be found every day of the dates stated.

"It will be well for every unmarried person whose net income for 1917 is $1,000 or over, and every married person living with wife or husband whose net income for 1917 is $2,000 or over, to call on the income tax man and learn whether or not they have to pay any tax," Collector Haly said. "The person subject to tax who doesn't make return in the time prescribed is going to regret it. The Government will get after all income tax slack-ers."

"There's hardly a business man, merchant or professional man who won't have to make return of income. Farmers, as a class, will have to pay the tax. The safe thing to do is for every person who had a total income of $1,000 or $2,000, as the case may be, and who is not sure about what deductions the law allows him, to play it safe by calling on the income tax man."

"The man in the fields will have forms for everybody and persons who expect to call on him need not trouble themselves to write to my office for forms."

Percy D. Haly,
Collector of Int. Revenue.

THE "TRIMMINGS" OF LIFE

Human activities have from time immemorial been roughly divided into two classes, commonly designated by the plain-spoken as the "essentials" and the "trimmings."

The division is an arbitrary one, and like most arbitrary definitions is frequently unfair. It implies that the one is vitally necessary while the other is superfluous.
This is far from being the truth.

Many centuries ago a great Teacher declared that "Man shall not live by bread alone." This truth has lost nothing of its force with the passage of time. There are many vital interests in life besides that of a mere subsistence.
These interests are they which mark the dividing line between man and the brute creation. They are the demands of his nature that grow out of his higher intelligence, and they are just as essential to the completion of the character as are the demands of subsistence to the development of the purely physical.

If we are to reap the full reward of our service we must not set aside the social demands of life. It is untrue to say we have no time for such. Time devoted to the cultivation of the social life—in reason—is never wasted. It is really a period devoted to the storing of energy and resources that shall aid us in the more material tasks. An intimate knowledge of the characteristics of our fellows is a valuable knowledge. Brushing up against the aims and aspirations of our neighbors and friends gives impetus to our own aspirations and sends us forth to the contest with renewed force and vigor.

And in fact most of the occupations of life can be successful pursued without losing sight of those higher interests that mark the man or the woman of an upward vision.
The mechanic can as easily be a gentleman as a lout. Even the crossing sweeper need not be a boor.

Cooking and dish-washing need not bar the mind and heart from things above and beyond the humble task.
It is as easy for the farmer to meditate on the great philosophies of earth as upon the virtues or failings of a political candidate. In short, achievement may have for its end the higher things of life as well as the baser.

Keep the fires burning brightly on the social altars. It is for the higher development of humanity that we are now struggling, and it would surely be a perversion of our efforts did we lose sight of the golden grain while contenting ourselves with the husks of life.

THE ART OF LIVING TOGETHER

This thing of living with folks is certainly complex business. If everybody were as bright as we are, if they had the good breeding and the good sense that adorn our personality—then, of course, it wouldn't be any special stunt to get on with folks; and, verily, life would be one glad, sweet song.

But folks are not like you and me—they're queer and half-baked and have such funny ideas.

Truly, folks are not alike. Here's the cheery, sunshiny chap; and there's the glooming, glowering grouch. And the trouble is we've got to live with both. It doesn't make any particular difference, either, wherein lies the difference between these two. They're here, and it's up to you and me to live with them as they are.

And opinions differ. What seems to us the eternal truth and the final word about some given matter, may seem to the other fellow the veriest claptrap and the most utter blather. In vain do we strive to make him see the thing as we see it—he looks upon us as a booby. So—we turn away from his flagrant stupidity and his arrogant conceit. And he from us, and our stupidity and conceit.

Of course, if everybody, individually, could just go away off and flock by himself; if we could just be independent of every one else in all the world—if, in a word, folks didn't have to live together—life would be a much simpler thing.

But because the old world doesn't wag that way, and everybody is tied up to and dependent upon everybody else, living with folks calls for something of art and finesse.

And it so falls out that every art must be acquired. The doing of anything artistically and well calls for practice. And it is even so in the art of living with folks.

This is but saying that we live by learning; and we learn the art of living together by practicing the amenities and laying hold of the amenities.

Higher than any art, more difficult of acquirement than the art of music or of painting, is just this art of living with our fellows.

MISS FROST COMMENDED

At a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City School held Tuesday night, January 1, 1918, the following resolution was passed:

"On motion a vote of appreciation was ordered extended to Miss Margaret Frost, our very efficient Community Nurse, and to Doctors Shirley, McKenna, Bush, Thompson, Duerson, Jones, Spratt and Wright, members of the local Medical and Dental professions, for their services, in conducting the physical examination of the members of the student body, during the month of December, 1917. Also to certain members of the student body for their clerical services during the said examination."

By order of the Board, W. H. Strössman, Jr., Sec'y.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or kidney and bladder disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Mt. Sterling case.

Mrs. J. C. McDonald, 115 Queen St., Mt. Sterling, says: "I suffered with my back and had no energy to do my work, especially mornings. I had such severe dizzy spells that I almost fell. My kidneys were not acting right at all and I had frequent headaches and nervous spells. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Land & Priest's Drug Store, strengthened my back and relieved the dizzy headaches and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

THE PHOTODRAMA

Stories, Notes and News Items Concerning Film Stars and "Movies" in General.

"Necessity, the Mother of Invention."

That the life of a motion picture star is not a bed of roses was the startling discovery made by Pauline Frederick in her most recent Paramount production, "The Hungry Heart," from the novel of that name by David Graham Phillips.

Most of the scenes were made out-of-doors in the vicinity of Lake George, New York, and while "on location" the company was obliged to picnic in the most informal manner. When lunch time arrived it was usually discovered that something important had been left out of the hamper and one day when it happened to be the spoons missing, dark despair threatened the company for, there was coffee, ice cream (slightly melted it is true) and other spoonable edibles. Pauline Frederick came to the rescue, however, with the suggestion that they attempt to substitute large leaves. This was done with most amusing results.

"The Hungry Heart" will be shown at The Tabb Theatre on Thursday, January 10th, matinee and night.

Julian Eltinge to Buy Los Angeles Country Club?

If somebody does not watch him, Julian Eltinge, the popular feminine impersonator in Paramount pictures, is very apt to buy up the Country Club at Los Angeles for a home. Several scenes of "The Countess Charming," marking his debut upon the screen, were filmed at this popular resort and since that time Mr. Eltinge has literally haunted the place.

When he has not the legitimate excuse of making pictures there he brazenly proceeds to play golf or tennis there, on the plea that he must preserve his figure in order to make his dresses contain him.

Mr. Eltinge's second Paramount photoplay, "The Clever Mrs. Carrfax," will appear at The Tabb Theatre on Friday, January 11, matinee and night.

From Store Clerkship to Fame and Wealth Inside of Ten Years.

Julian Eltinge, the famous impersonator of feminine roles, was about ten years ago working behind the counter of a Boston store. Today he stands at the very pinnacle of success and has recently added to his list of successes two photoplays, the first, "The Countess Charming," the second, "The Clever Mrs. Carrfax," both of which are Paramount pictures.

Receiving a fabulous salary and literally tons of mail from screen admirers every day, Mr. Eltinge has retained his natural manner and good fellowship and is as popular among his fellow actors as with the public.

His second picture, "The Clever Mrs. Carrfax," is to be at The Tabb Theatre on Friday, January 11.

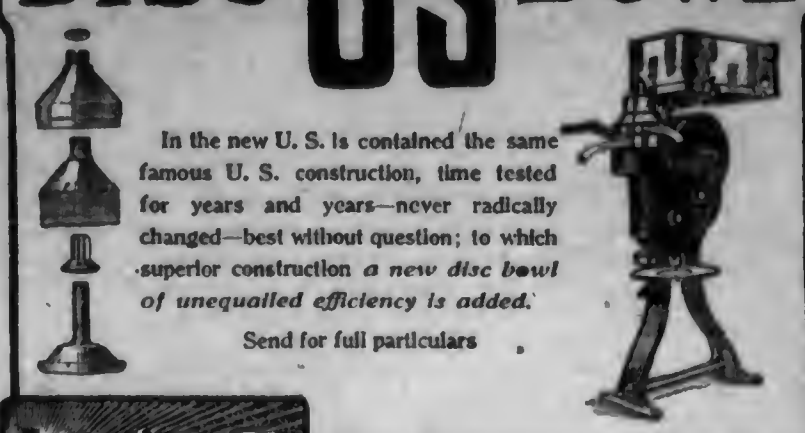

Married to the wrong man who refuses to expire at the appointed time, all the while loving big Irish Barney—such is the fate of Vivian Martin in her newest Paramount picture, "Molly Entangled." It sounds a bit gruesome. In reality it isn't, however, only appealingly funny and quaint and lovable as only Vivian Martin could have made a situation of that sort.

"Molly Entangled" will appear on Saturday, January 12, at The Tabb Theatre.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and cases not of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

BRITISH CASUALTIES

British casualties reported in December reached a total of 79,527, divided as follows:

Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 1,041; men, 14,805.

Wounded or missing: Officers, 3,342; men, 60,335.

Casualties reported from December 26 to 31 were 9,951, divided as follows:

Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 65; men, 2,000.

Wounded or missing: Officers, 238; men, 7,589.

British casualties December show a marked decrease from November, reflecting the slowing down of operations with the coming of winter. The total for last month was 120,089, the highest in five months, owing to the severe fighting on the Cambrai front.

The figures for the last six days of December are much lower than for the preceding six days. The report for the period December 19-24 gave the total of 13,319.

Dr. von Kuehlman, German foreign secretary, is quoted as saying it was absurd to imagine that Germany would enter a peace conference with large claims. If Germany will stop to consider on whose soil she is waging her war, she will conclude it is absurd to advance any claims. When she begins to fight on her own soil she might begin to think of claims—not before. The claims are all coming the other way.

RESOLUTION

On motion of W. P. Apperson, duly seconded by Jno. S. Frazer, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The Hon. C. K. Oldham will retire as Mayor on the 7th day of January, 1918, we, the Council of the City of Mt. Sterling, Kentucky, desire to express our appreciation of the courteous and fair manner in which he has presided over all meetings, and of the efficient and economical way in which he has administered the finances of the City and looked after the interests of the City during his term of office.

Poets' Names.

If it be true that words create for themselves a special atmosphere, and that their mere sound calls up vague outer things beyond their strict meaning, so it is true that the names of the great poets by their mere sound, by something more than the recollection of their work, produce an atmosphere corresponding to the quality of each.

LOOK WELL TO THE COUNTRY ROADS

Our people will be fortunate if, in the drive after a record production in all lines, they keep well in mind the great importance of good roads. Good roads are, in fact, one of the prime factors of success in our efforts to exceed all former productive records.

The farmer who, after harvesting a bumper crop, attempts to move that crop to market over poor roads, soon finds that he must sacrifice a large per cent. of his profits in reaching the market with his wares. The lumberman who has cut a choice lot of material finds he must give up the lion's share of his profits in getting his stuff to the railroad. The same holds good in all lines—poor roads mean a waste of energy; good roads, conservation of energy that may be profitably employed in more production.

The temptation for slackness in this irrecion grows greater all the time. Thousands of our workers have gone to the army; other thousands have been drifted to take their places in the industries. Labor in all lines is at a premium.

The people of this country, however, have never known the meaning of the words "defeat" and "failure." They must not learn at this late day. A determination on our part that the industrial life of the country MUST NOT and SHALL NOT deteriorate will work wonders. Hitherto only a very small per cent. of the national energy has been devoted to the stern question of making a living. We have had abundant time for all the varied interests of life. Now, however, some of those interests must take second place. The demands upon our time and energy are such that more and more we must cut out the frivolous and devote ourselves to the serious phases of life.

We can find the time and the means an the labor to keep our roads up to the standard of efficiency. We MUST, if a large part of our energy is not to be wasted.

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."

The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:

"Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."

MARRIED MEN NOT TO BE DRAFTED

Provost Marshal General Crowder, reporting to Congress on the progress of the draft, expressed for the first time a definite promise and aim of the Government not to take for army duty any other men than those listed in Class 1 of the new draft questionnaire.

This classification excludes married men entirely whose wives or families are dependent on them for support and other men with dependents. Gen. Crowder does this on the estimate that 1,000,000 men physically fit for army duty will be available from Class 1. This number he thinks sufficient for the present military needs of the nation, but to assure the future supply for those needs he recommends that men who have become 21 years old since July 5, 1917 (the first draft), and who become of age hereafter shall be added to Class 1 as they become available. This will insure, the General estimates, a supply of 700,000 men a year.

Gen. Crowder outlines the new policy in this language:

"Whether this guess (1,000,000 available men) he justified in practice or not, it can be announced now as the policy and belief of this office that in all probability it will be possible to fill our military needs without invading any class more deferred than Class 1; and that is the promise, the standard, and the goal, here for the first time announced, toward which every administrative effort of this office shall be directed."

Gen. Crowder also recommends another method of arriving at a State's quota. Instead of using the population as a basis he would take the number of men at present listed in Class 1.

Kentucky had the greatest number of exemption claims of any State, it was made public in a report giving statistics of the selective draft operations. Fifty-two per cent. of all men called in Kentucky filed affidavits. The average number of claims was 46 per cent.

Montana led among the States in the number of men called who filed no claim for exemption. Figures for that State show that 80 per cent. of men called up were ready to go to the front.

There was evidently some variation of exempting married men. A total of 163,115 married men have been certified for service. In Mississippi, the boards held 38 per cent. of all married men called for service; in Wisconsin and North Dakota, only eight per cent. were held. After further study of the result it is expected efforts will be made to unify the practice of boards more closely in this regard.

DON'T CRITICISE YOUR GOVERNMENT

One of the foremost hardware companies of this country has issued a little booklet that is one of the finest pieces of pure patriotism. This booklet is directed to its traveling men, and contains some sound advice as to their attitude toward the government in its conduct of the war. It advises the men, whatever their politics may be, to refrain from any criticism of the administration, assuring them that our leaders are doing all that mortal men can do to bring this country through the crisis that faces us. It also reminds them that all the really big men of the nation have forgotten, for the time being, that they are either Republicans or Democrats, and are standing shoulder to shoulder with the President and his fellow laborers.

This is loyalty of the purest brand. And it is an example that more could follow with profit. Every idle criticism of those in authority is just so much influence against the cause to which we are irrevocably pledged. It is just so much adverse force that our leaders must overcome to win. And worst of all, it all tends to encourage the enemy. The most idle and thoughtless criticism by Americans of their government is wafted straight to Berlin, and by the time it reaches there it is expended to represent the common sentiment of Americans.

President Wilson is not asking for our loyalty on the ground of his democracy. He doesn't ask it on the ground of his learning of superior attainments. He asks our allegiance because the American people have placed him in a position where he is largely responsible for the welfare of the nation, and it were ingratitude on our part, after placing him there, to even-ly desert him and leave him to bear the great burden alone, and worse still, hampered at every step by our senseless complaints.

American soldiers are on the firing line in France. They are going across by thousands and hundreds of thousands. No army can give its best service that has not the solid moral support of its home people. It is treachery of the worst kind to send our boys to fight OUR battles, and then bicker and quarrel among ourselves as to methods and means. We have men of the highest character as our leaders. Let us have faith in their ability and integrity, and instead of annoying and nagging, support them to the last dollar and the last drop of our blood. That's what our boys will do, and can we do less?

20,000 GRADUATE NURSES REQUIRED IN ARMY HOSPITALS

With a continuance of the war, in the next year at least 20,000 nurses will be needed in Army hospitals at home and abroad. Of the 80,000 graduate nurses of the country only 3,500 have so far been assigned to duty in Army service, and of this number 1,500 are in France.

An Army nurse must be a graduate of a training school for nurses and must have served for two years in a hospital. They are assigned to duty in the United States or abroad, and preferences are granted when conditions permit. Nurses who prefer not to have service abroad will have their preferences respected.

PINCH BACK COATS AND PEG TOP TROUSERS IN DISCARD

Peg top trousers, "pinch back" coats, French facings, fancy flaps and patch pockets are the latest luxuries to be offered as a sacrifice to economy. In an address in New York on cloth economy before delegates from virtually every clothing center in the United States, M. Cutter, a member of the Commercial Economy Board, cited some of the limitations in men's clothing that had been decided upon as a conservation measure.

All yokes and plaits are to be eliminated, Mr. Cutter said, as well as outside penny pockets, double-breasted sack coats and vests and cloth belts on coats.

Announcement was made that a war service committee would be named to represent the clothing industry in dealings with the government.

At Last—A One-Adjustment Cream Separator

BEFORE you buy any cream separator, come in and look at the Primrose. One adjustment is all that is necessary to keep it in perfect operating condition at all times. This adjustment is a simple one for keeping the bowl at the correct height—an adjustment that you or your wife can safely make, whenever it's necessary. The adjustment is made from the outside of the separator by either raising or lowering the bearing containing the hardened steel point, upon which the spindle revolves. A slight turn with a screwdriver, perhaps once a year, does the work. The Primrose is a well-constructed, close-skimming, durable cream separator. It will make a saving of $10.00 to $15.00 per cow in your herd every year. It is made in four sizes to separate 350 to 850 pounds of milk per hour, or from about 40 to 98 gallons. Ask for a catalogue giving a complete description, or, come in and look over the Primrose yourself.

SCARCITY OF LIVE STOCK

For some time now it has been apparent to those who have given the matter thought, that the country is threatened with an alarming shortage in live stock—especially meat producing animals, though horses and mules are also showing a shortage.

When the war in Europe first began, it was suggested by our agricultural department that our farmers and stock raisers devote greater attention to increasing the number of meat animals. It was pointed out that the large foreign demand would make great inroads in our supply. This was the result, but not all the result. The stimulated demand caused prices to soar to abnormal figures. These prices in turn caused all who had stock to push them onto the market at the earliest moment, with the result that thousands of head of stock went to the butchers when it should have been kept on the farms.

Stock buyers inform us that for the past years the average weight of hogs especially has steadily declined, due to the fact that the heavy feeders have been practically exhausted and the lighter animals are being pushed onto the market.

At a meeting of food administrators of a number of States recently it was the unanimous decision, after surveying the situation carefully, that a concerted effort must be made to increase the breeding of hogs and cattle, and each State represented in the conference was given its per cent. of increase to be attained.

But it is right at this point that the difficulty is encountered. The high prices have not only caused the immature animals to be sacrificed but thousands of valuable females have also been slaughtered which should have been kept on the farms. There is not a particle of doubt that the country is alarmingly short of breeders.

There is but one remedy. No owner of hogs or cattle should sell or kill females capable of reproducing their kind. This should be made an iron-clad rule on the farms and ranches of this country for some time to come. Certain it is that if the past, or even the present rate of consumption of females is continued for another twelve months, the country will face something little short of a meat famine.

We are a meat-eating race. But meat must be grown, and the animals must have dams. The only way to insure the supply is to conserve the females. This will have to be done, even at the risk of even higher prices than now prevail.

And, as prices now range, this will be no sacrifice to the farmers, but rather a source of greater revenue, as all will see if they will look at the matter in the right light.

THE GIRL THAT I LEFT BEHIND

(Contributed by a local soldier.)

Darling, when I am far away
From you, somewhere in France,
I ask you to always think of me,
And pray that I have a chance.

To leave you, Dear, was hard,
The hardest thing of all.
But I am no SLACKER,
When I hear my Country's call.

To be at home with you, Little Girl,
It's a happiness that's true,
But I cannot see the Germans
Down the Red, White and Blue!

I'd like to be with you often,
These beautiful happy days,
But now it makes me blue to think,
That I am so far away.

Some day in the far future,
This conflict will end,
And the Soldier Boy that loves you,
Will come to you again.

'Tis duty of every girl,
Who is left behind,
To always think of the boy she loves
Who is on the firing line.

He did not want to leave you,
For he is going to risk his life,
He is a true American,
And upholds the Stars and Stripes.

I told you when I kissed you,
Those lips of yours so sweet,
That I was going to leave you.
And again we may never meet.

Don't give me up, My Darling,
If you love me you will wait;
If we don't meet on earth again,
We will meet at the Golden Gate.

Some girls are not so patient,
Who will not wait so long—
Will go and LOVE a SLACKER,
When their soldier boy is gone.

When he goes to fight his battle,
For his Country and for you,
His heart is always resting,
On the one he thinks is true.

When he returns in years to come,
And finds that you were false,
His whole life will be ruined,
And his happiness is lost.

Do not hear this strain, little girl,
Make your Love be true,
Greet the boy in khaki,
When he comes marching back to you.

Throw your arms around him,
Let him kiss your sweet little lips,
And he will joyfully tell you
All about his wonderful trips.

I close this letter hoping
That you will be mine some day,
As I bid you good bye for this hour,
And good bye for the day.

If it is good bye for a month
He loves you true as ever.
Good bye for a year,
And perhaps GOOD BYE FOREVER!

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady.
Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Price, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time...I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

If, as stated, there is danger of much of the corn crop spoiling from a lack of men to gather it, our women might profitably follow the example of their sisters across the waters and render much aid in saving this valuable crop. Gathering corn, while not strictly speaking suitable work for women, is still not beyond their ability. Women in Europe are doing much of the farm work, much harder work than harvesting corn. It would be a splendid exhibition of patriotism for our women to volunteer for this service.

The hotel men over the country seem to have struck a snag in their attempt to explain their failure to observe a mentless and wheattless days, by alleging that the traveling men would not "stand for it." Now come the United Commercial Travelers and indignantly deny the charge, maintaining that they are as ready as any other class of men to follow Mr. Hoover's recommendations to the letter. It seems to be up to the entering house men.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

No matter where your cradle stood, Where do you stand now? Sure, Uncle Sam's been good to you; That much you must allow. You left your home Across the foam; You said it didn't suit you. We "fell for it"— Now do your bit! Or else—we ought to shoot you. —Christian Home and School.

The Government has asked the Kentucky farmer to increase his pork product, thereby giving an opportunity to assist in the feeding of the soldiers at the front. The farmer can do this not only to the help of the nation at this period but to greatly enlarge his bank account. Will they do this, the request is reasonable. The farmer holds the key to the situation.

It is a safe bet that the addition of the woman vote in New York will not add to the certainty of pre-election predictions.

ATTENTION REGISTRANTS

The Provost Marshal General has sent the following telegram to the governors of all States:

To resolve doubt expressed by local boards as to the classification of registrants the following is published in explanation of the regulations. Please send the following to all local and district boards by mail as expeditiously as possible:

First. Subdivision "A," class 4, is the residuary class for registrants whose wives or children are mainly dependent on them for support, and this applies to a widower whose own children are mainly dependent upon him for support.

Second. If a registrant has both a wife and child, but there are such other sources of support available that the removal of the registrant will not deprive the dependents of reasonably adequate support, he is to be placed in subdivision "A" of class 2.

Third. If a registrant has a wife but no children and there are such other sources of support available that the removal of the registrant will not deprive the wife of reasonably adequate support, he goes in class 1 as not being included in any other division in the schedule.

Fourth. Many boards seem to be in doubt as to what to do when it appears that the soldier's pay and war-risk allowances will provide an adequate support.

See rule 1, page 34, and the last paragraph of section 71. Reasonably adequate support cannot be determined by a rule of thumb, but must be determined with sense and sympathy in the facts of each individual case. What would be adequate support in one locality or in one set of circumstances might not be adequate support in another. The question of adequate support must be determined by the boards after careful consideration of the interests of the dependents on the one hand and of the Government on the other.

the other, and with the thought always in mind that the present classification scheme is designed to raise our armies with a minimum of hardship and suffering to those who are to be left at home.

GET APPOINTMENTS

Relatives here have received a message announcing that Sergeant-Major Lewis Carroll Jones and Sergeant Robert J. Stoner, who were members of Montgomery's first increment in the draft and have been stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor since early in September, have been selected for the Third Officers' Training Camp, which opened at Camp Taylor recently. Sergeant Stoner is now convalescing from illness at his home here, but it is believed he will not forfeit his place in the Officers' Camp.

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

T. Foster Rogers has been appointed by the Government to issue licenses to dealers and users of explosives of all kinds. It is required of all such persons to secure their license before handling same, and it will be necessary to call at Mr. Rogers' office at once and obtain your license.

OUT OF BUSINESS

Old H. C. of L. has caused the Peerless Exchange, of this city, to quit business. Miss Harp, who has been conducting the business for several months, was forced to suspend owing to her inability to secure the necessary tables for her trade. Miss Harp sold on a commission basis.

IRVINE MAN WEDS

MT. STERLING GIRL

Mr. Henry Floyd Tipton, of Irvine, and Miss Gladys Holliday, of this city, went to Winchester Saturday afternoon and after securing a license were united in marriage.
